Summary

I'm a software solution provider having 4 years of experience through a time commitment, contributing to the company's growth and in turn ensuring personal growth within the organization. I believe that my technical, functional and communication skills will enable me in facing the challenging career ahead. A challenging position is a software development and possibility of career growth. I'm a disciplined, enthusiastic and hard working person. I have a flexible attitude, and have always displayed a desire to excel in all that I do. I possess good leadership, communication and organizational skills and my attitude to work and study has always been of a flexible and versatile nature. I feel this approach enables me to improve my own learning and performance, meeting the performance expectations and contributing to the overall success of everything. My aim is to gain employment, with a company who recognizes commitment, determination and above all, innovation amongst its employees, in order to meet objectives.
